

Organizational Announcement – Janine Barrett

We are pleased to announce the appointment of ACR's new Director of Sales, Janine Barrett

Janine is an accomplished executive in the Aerospace component part industry. She is well known for leading new business development and plan execution with over 20+ years management and sales experience.

She has also been a key contributor to the success at Aercap Materials and Velocity Aerospace by fostering customer relationships while exceeding growth expectations.

While at Aercap Materials and Velocity, Janine developed and worked with the sales team to meet revenue goals by developing Key Account initiatives. Janine increased sales through improved communication, customer service, and relationship building.

Please help us welcome Janine to the Aircraft Component Repair, Inc. Team! We look forward to working with you!
